Course Objective:
Italian 1020 is the continuation of Italian 1010. To attend this course, students are required to possess a basic knowledge of the Italian language. This course focuses on the improvement of communication skills in Italian, and combines the formal study of grammar with verbal and oral communication exercises. We will cover chapters 6, 7, and 8 of Parliamo Italiano, which is the same textbook used in Italian 1010.

Textbook

Homework and Tests:
There will be 6 quizzes and 6 written and oral conversation reports. There will also be weekly homework due no later than each Thursday at 11:00 PM. Homework and reports will be uploaded on Canvas. Students will also be required to record 3 separate conversations in Italian that will be submitted electronically on Canvas. The final will be a short essay in Italian on topic related to the Italian culture, language, etc. In order to learn pronunciation correctly and to improve oral communication skills in Italian, students are strongly encouraged to use the CD ROM that accompanies the book.
