Some questions to consider as you prepare your trailer:

*What should be the first image your audience sees?

*What words will you use to describe what is done to the dolphins in the cove (fishing, killing, culling, slaughtering)?

*Should people be allowed to speak for themselves in your trailer or should there be a narrator?

*How will you explain the fishermen’s purpose for killing dolphins?

*How will the West’s interests in dolphins be represented?
