

Communication in Family Contexts (CMST 4140)
TR: 10:30 – 11:45 Old Main 119
Fall, 2017

Instructor: Dr. Timothy Curran
Email: tim.curran@usu.edu
Office Hours: Tuesday 12 – 2 or by appointment

Course overview:

This course is designed to enhance your knowledge of, and ability to critically analyze, communication within families. We will discuss a variety of family theories, family relationships, and how family communication impacts mental and physical health. The material covered in this course is based on family communication theory and empirical data. The course assignments are designed to help you apply scholarly knowledge on family communication in your own lives, as well as increase your understanding of broader family patterns in our society.

Required texts:

Segrin, C., & Flora, J. (2011). Family communication, 2nd ed. New York: Routledge. (ISBN: 13:978-0-415-87634-6) 2.

*Addition readings and materials posted on Canvas.*

Course Objectives

This course provides an in-depth examination of family communication from an academic and theory rich perspective.

1. Students will learn about major theories in family communication research.
2. Students will examine dimensions of various family relationships.
3. Students will examine the role of family communication on health outcomes.
4. With group members, students will identify an important concept in family communication research and develop a group presentation and lead a discussion.
5. Students will enhance their writing skills with reflection papers that demonstrate their knowledge of course material.

General Expectations and Policies:

Make – Up Exams

After the first person to finish the exam has left, I will not allow any latecomers to take the exam. Make-ups are rarely given, and never for personal reasons. Make-ups are only allowed for the following:

1. Absence due to a university sanctioned activity where students have given the instructor a week's notice.
2. Absence due to an emergency which has been documented through their advisor or Student Affairs.
3. Absence due to an illness which has been verified in writing from your private physician. The note does not need details of the illness, but that the physician does not think you are well enough to attend class on the date of the exam. An indication that you had an appointment at the health care center is not sufficient.

24/7 Rule

Students that wish to discuss grades on any assignment must wait 24 hours before raising the issue. After 24 hours, you have 7 days to discuss the issue before it will no longer be considered for a grade appeal.

Late work:

Assignments must be turned in at the beginning of the class period that they are due or else they will receive 5% off the final grade each day the assignment is late including with the due date. An assignment will not be accepted after three days past the due date.

Honesty:

Plagiarized work will receive an F for the assignment and may, depending on the severity of the infringement, receive a failing grade for the course and/or expulsion from the university.

Students may not use a paper written in another class for credit in this one, or vice versa, without instructor consent.

Refer to the university honesty/honor code for further policies pertinent to this class.

Respect and Etiquette

In-class: This class is designed to give students a safe space to explore and engage with new and challenging ideas. Thus, this class we will cover sensitive topics such as family violence, eating disorders, divorce etc. Comments that are disrespectful will not be tolerated and students may be asked to leave class. Speaking over other's in class is also unacceptable. Any inappropriate behavior in class will adversely affect your participation grade.

Email: Professional communication is essential when constructing emails in this class and others. Please begin emails with by addressing me by "Tim," have a clear body with proper grammar, and end with your name. This is a good model for all emails you send to instructors. You are responsible for making sure I receive all emails; therefore, I recommend sending yourself a carbon copy of all emails you send.

Cellphone Use: Please refrain from checking your phones during class time. It is a distraction to you and those around you.

Syllabus Statement:

The course syllabus is a general plan for the course; deviations may be necessary, and will be announced to the class. Any changes or deviations from the syllabus is at the discretion of the professor and will be announced to the class.

Course Assignments and Point Breakdowns:

Midterm	20%
Final Exam	20%
Group Presentation/Discussion Lead	20%
Reading Quizzes	10%
Concept Reflection Paper 1	15%
Concept Reflection Paper 2	10%
Discussion Questions/Participation	5%

Group Presentation/Discussion Lead:

During the semester, groups of 2-3 students will give a 10 – 12 minute presentation and will bring 6 – 8 thoughtful discussion questions for the class to consider. Presentations will be based on the week's topic (e.g., sibling communication, mental health), but your presentation will examine a specific area of the topic that you find important and interesting. For example, if you are scheduled to present the week we discuss sibling communication, you may choose to give your presentation on sibling communication in late adulthood, or how siblings manage their relationships when one goes to college for the first time. I will provide some examples of each topic just to give you an idea/starting point. If you are having a hard time choosing, talk to me. You must okay your topic with me at least one week in advance. Aim to choose something that is interesting to you, will likely be interesting to the audience, and will feasibly fit within the time constraints of the assignment. You must use at least 3 scholarly sources (articles and/or books) to give your presentation sufficient conceptual depth. These must be clearly cited in your presentation.

This assignment is grounded in scholarly research – however you can also spend time pointing out examples of your topic in the media (TV shows, movies, etc.). This can add interest to your topic and help show how families are portrayed in pop culture. This is not a required part of the assignment (some topics will align with this idea more than others). After the group presentation, we will sit down as a class and discuss the topic. Discussion questions posed by the presenters will begin and lead out discussion. Grades will be earned based on your efforts to engage the class, your oral presentation skills, the presentation's substance, and your organization. Detailed guidelines will be provided, and I will provide a general template for you on the second week of class.

Reflection Paper 1:

Reflection paper 1 is due a week after your group presentation. This paper is individual work – not to be done with your group. In this 5 – 7 page paper, you will take the 3 scholarly sources from your presentation and one additional article and synthesize them into main take away points/important common themes. The one additional article is unique to your paper. You may also use the required readings from that week to inform your paper if you wish.

You DO NOT want to simply review article by article separately. Instead, I want you to read each resource and come up with main take away points that are informed by each reading. A question to ask yourself when reading is “What is the most important information for researchers and for lay people?” This section is the bulk of the paper and should take up 4-5 pages.

Next, you should write a paragraph on what you think is missing that you think would further illuminate this area of research. Specific ideas are always better than general ones. You do not have to bring up every gap in family research. Instead, think about one idea that you think would be useful to know more about when it comes to this topic.

Reflection paper 1 should end with you answering: How does this information help you better understand a relationship you have? – or, How it will inform your life moving forward? Being specific here is crucial. You want to SHOW how you can merge the scholarly information into your life.

Reflection Paper 2:

Reflection paper 2 is due any time before the final exam. You DO NOT have to write Reflection Paper 1 before writing Reflection Paper 2. In fact, if your group is not presenting until the second half of the semester, I recommend you write this paper in the first half of the semester. Reflection paper 2 is designed for you to write about any topic on the syllabus that you find most interesting. In this 5 – 6 page paper you will find 3 – 4 scholarly articles and write a paper synthesizing the main ideas/take away points. The first page of the assignment should be an introduction where you explain why you chose this topic AND why you chose these specific articles. The remaining 4 – 5 pages should be devoted to reviewing the research from the articles, pointing out the strengths and weaknesses of the findings, and synthesizing the main take away points. The paper should end with a paragraph devoted to recommendations for future research. As explained above, specific ideas are always more valuable than general suggestions.

Reading Quizzes:

There will be 5 online reading quizzes worth 2% of your final grade each. Quizzes are designed to keep everyone accountable for the weekly readings. Reading before the lecture and discussion day for each topic is crucial for productive class meetings. You are expected to come to class having read and thought about the readings. My general expectation for class time is that we engage in learning experiences that you could not engage in by yourself. Thus, if everyone comes to class prepared, we can spend our time creating and debating new information.

Course Schedule:

Day	Topic	Major Assignment Info
Aug. 29	Course Introduction
Aug. 31	Defining Families
	Family Theories
Sept. 5	Family Systems Lecture
Sept 7	Family Systems Discussion	Discussion lead 1
Sept 12	Attachment in Families Lecture
Sept. 14	Attachment in Families Discussion	Discussion lead 2
Sept. 19	Family Schema Lecture
Sept. 21	Family Schema Discussion	Discussion lead 3
	Family Subsystems
Sept. 26	Courtship Lecture
Sept. 28	Courtship Discussion	Discussion lead 4
Oct. 3	Marital Conflict and Divorce Lecture
Oct. 5	Marital Conflict and Divorce Discussion	Discussion lead 5
Oct. 10	Sibling Communication Lecture
Oct. 12	Sibling Communication Discussion	Discussion lead 6
Oct. 17	Midterm
Oct. 19	No class
Oct. 24	Parenting Styles Lecture
Oct. 26	Parenting Styles Discussion	Discussion lead 7
Oct. 31	Parent-Child Conflict Lecture
Nov. 2	Parent-Child Conflict Discussion	Discussion lead 8
Nov. 7	Family and Mental Health Lecture
Nov. 9	Family and Mental Discussion	Discussion lead 9
Nov. 14	Family and Positivity/Thriving Lecture
Nov. 16	No Class
	Families and Structural Inequality

Nov. 21	Family and Positivity/Thriving Discussion	Discussion lead 10
Nov. 23	Thanksgiving break
Nov. 28	Family and Race/SES Lecture
Nov. 30	Family and Race/SES Discussion	Discussion lead 11
Dec. 5	Family and Gender/Sexuality Lecture
Dec. 7	Family and Gender/Sexuality Discussion	Discussion lead 12
	Final Exam

Additional Information:

If you have a disability, I strongly encourage you to contact the Disability Resource Center and myself so that the classroom environment can be made conducive to your learning style.

All materials from this course including the syllabus, course notes, quizzes, activities, papers, exams, etc., are copyrighted as intellectual property (unless otherwise noted as credited) and are not to be duplicated, reproduced or posted to any website without express authorization.

Required Readings:

Week 1: What is a Family?

Segrin & Flora (2011) pages: 3 – 15

Week 2: Families as Systems

Segrin and Flora (2011): 25 – 30

Cox (1997) pages: 246 - 256

Week 3: Attachment in Families

Segrin & Flora (2011) pages: 25, 37 – 40

Demidenko (2015)

Week 4: Family Communication Environments and Schema

Segrin and Flora (2011) pages: 50 – 52

Koerner and Schrodtt (2014) pages: 1 – 9

Hesse (2017)

Week 5: Courtship and Marriage

Segrin and Flora (2011) pages: 91 – 106, 112 – 114, 135 – 141

Week 6: Marital Conflict and Divorce

Segrin and Flora (2011) pages: 126 – 130, 247 - 264

Week 7: Communication between Siblings

Segrin and Flora (2011) pages: 166 - 182

Week 8: Midterm

Week 9: Parenting Styles

Segrin and Flora (2011): 142 – 161

Week 10: Parent-Child Conflict Communication

Sillars et al. (2011):

Segrin & Flora (2011): 329 – 331

Week 11: Family Communication and Body Image/Depression

Segrin and Flora (2011): 295 – 300, 307 – 312

Curran, Samp, & Janovec (2017): 278 – 292

Week 12: Family Communication and Thriving/Well-Being

Curran & Andersen (2017) 33 – 35

Preston et al (2016)

Week 13: Family Communication and Race/SES

Jeon and Neppl (2016): 22 – 32

Constantine. (2006): 697 – 709

Week 14: Family Communication and Gender/Sexuality

Riina & Feinberg (2012): 836 – 850

Floyd (2001): 39 – 47