Course Description:

Many scholars have examined the impact a culture's public discourse can have on the way in which members of that culture view themselves in relation to others. While this class starts from the assumptions that culture is socially constructed, we recognize that this construction and reconstruction is achieved through both interpersonal and mass mediated means. In this class, we will examine how discourses are socially constructed and hence a product of their cultural environment. Many discourses circulate in a given culture, and they are sometimes at odds with one another. The primary focus of this class is to understand the impact of sub-cultural, national, international public discourses. It will examine the symbiotic relationship between culture and discourse, looking at how public discourses impact a certain culture and vice versa.

Course Objectives:

- Understand theories and pertaining to culture and public discourse
- Improve your ability to think critically about important contemporary issues
- Strengthen your ability to write coherently and articulate strong arguments
- Enhance your presentation and discussion leadership skills

COURE POLICIES

Written Assignment Format: All written assignments will be in typed in 12 point Times New Roman font with 1-inch margins on all sides of the document. No extra spacing should be added between paragraphs or before or after lines. Although this many seem stringent, it ensures that all students are playing on equal grounds.

Late Work/Missed Assignments:

- Late work will not be accepted unless a valid reason is provided. When accepted, you may receive a 5-point deduction per 24 hours for up to 5 days after the due date (including weekends). No papers will be accepted beyond 5 days and will result in a zero on that assignment.
- If you miss any assignment due date because of a documented illness or emergency situation, you MUST provide me with an official note (doctor, police, etc.) justifying why you were not able to make the due date. All notes must be accompanied by a contact number, as this number will be called to verify your illness or emergency.

Special Needs and Accommodations

Disability Resource Center at Utah State University will work with students needing additional accommodations to academically succeed in this class. Students with ADA-documented physical, sensory, emotional or medical impairments may be eligible for reasonable accommodations. Veterans may also be eligible for services. All accommodations are coordinated through the Disability Resource Center (DRC) in Room 101 of the University Inn, (435)797-2444 voice, (435)797-0740 TTY, (435)797-2444 VP, or toll free at 1-800-259-2966. Please contact the DRC as early in the semester as possible.

24/7 Rule Regarding Assignment and Grade Discussions

You are encouraged to discuss assignments and course grades with me frequently to assess your progress throughout the semester and so we can discuss ways to achieve your goals in this course. In general, grades will not be discussed via email or phone. If you should have a question or complaint regarding a grade, please wait 24 hours before bringing it to my attention. After 24 hours, call or email me with a brief description of your concern. As a general approach, please review any assignment feedback in detail and prepare specific questions and concerns you have before our meeting. In essence, develop your argument before you set up the meeting. You must, however, address the issue within one week of receiving the grade/feedback. After one week, the issue is no longer open for discussion (this time will obviously be truncated for the end of semester assignments). This policy ensures that you think through the points you wish to make, review feedback against assignment criteria, and make improvements for future assignments.

Attendance and Participation

You are required to attend class and participate in different activities with your peers. Failure to miss class with greatly affect your participation grade for both the class and group. You have two excused absences that you can use for family emergencies. Any subsequent absences will result in lowering your participation grade 4 points (this will come your class participation). You will receive a ZERO = for anything done in your absence unless your absence is excused (a result of a documented illness or a university sponsored travel).

Professionalism

Professionalism includes respecting others' opinions, being respectful to those who are speaking during lectures and discussions. It also includes working together in a spirit of cooperation. This is an extremely interactive class, and it is important that we all respect one another, participate to the best of our abilities, and learn to feel comfortable with one another. I will not allow you to be disrespectful toward others.

Class conduct

- No student is permitted to create a threatening, intimidating, or harassing environment in this course. Classroom civility is a part of the Student Code, and infractions will be pursued through the Student Conduct Coordinator. This course will be conducted in a safe and tolerant environment, and any person who detracts from that environment will be first given a verbal warning about the behavior. If said behavior persists, the student will be asked to leave the class and will not be able to return until the case is settled to the satisfaction of the professor.

- Cellular phones and other electronics are not to be utilized during class time as they distract both the user and the rest of the class. Laptops are permitted for note taking and collaboration, so you should not have your laptop open unless it is time to take notes.

Course Requirements: All assignments are due through canvas by 11:59 PM on their due date.

1) Presentations: There will be TWO graded in-class group presentations due this semester. A description of the assignments can be found on canvas.

- Assignment #1: Analysis of the impacts of culture on public discourse.
- Assignment #2: Analysis of the impacts of public discourse on culture

2) Reflection Papers: You are required to complete FIVE one-page, single-spaced, and typed reflection papers. In these papers, you will synthesize the readings for that week by discussing how they relate to one another and to concepts and theories discussed in this class. You are required to use concepts and theories from the class to help explain your evaluations and analyses. You may relate the readings and class concepts back to events and happenings you are exposed to in the real world, to personal experiences, or to information you have learned in other classes. A description of this assignment is found on canvas.

NOTE: You have to be in class to receive credit for the reflections.

3) Discussion Leadership: You will be required to serve as the discussion leader for TWO different occasions throughout this semester. You will lead your discussion on the readings for that week. These discussions should be lively and last between 30 – 35 minutes. You will lead the discussion in a group of 3 – 5 students. As a discussion leader, you will write a 1-2 paragraphs synthesizing the readings and highlighting the main arguments. On the same document, you will come up with a list of open-ended questions (5-6 questions to ask of your group) in order to help you lead a discussion.

On a different page, you will also need to create a discussion activity to do with your group and provide a full description of that activity. The activity should help student discuss the issues from the readings. It is your job to keep the discussion going and your group members involved in the discussion. You will be graded based on your ability to concisely synthesize the materials, ask open-ended questions, and keep the discussion lively. Please note that what you write for your discussion leadership assignment does not count as your regular reflection papers. Also, note that a discussant does not dominate the conversation, but rather help students consider new perspectives and distinct ways of thinking about the subject matter.

4) Class participation: Because this is a 3000-level class, a high level of individual participation is expected of each student. As you cannot participate if you are not in class, regular attendance is therefore vital to your overall success in this course. Please arrive on time having already completed the assigned reading, ready to engage in our discussion of the materials.

5) Examinations: There are TWO examinations this semester. Both exams will cover assigned readings and lectures. Early exams or make-up exams rarely will be given, and only to students who have unavoidable conflicts—that can be documented— with the exam time. The exams will consist of multiple-choice and short-answer questions.
