

Cassidy Hansen, New LPCS Philosophy, Communication Studies and Global Communication Studies Advisor

can't wait to continue to learn from you and work together to reach your goals.

10/09/2020

Cassidy Hansen - Advisor

My name is Cassidy Hansen and I am so excited to be back at USU working with you in Philosophy, Communication Studies, and Global Communication. Along with most of you, I deeply appreciated Suzann Winn's guidance as an advisor while I worked on my degree in Communication Studies here at Utah State. I hope I can be the kind of advisor she has always been! I consider myself to be more of a professional student than anything else and love being in the university environment. After graduating from USU, I spent some time working for a local non-profit organization as a receptionist, volunteer coordinator, and administrative assistant.

When I am not working, I'm most likely playing with my one year old daughter or exploring Cache Valley (and beyond when we can) with my husband. We love to hike, travel, read, and watch TV. I lived in Ecuador where I learned to speak Spanish and have loved experiencing new cultures ever since. In my first few weeks here as an advisor, I have been so impressed by the amazing students. One of my very favorite things is learning about your interests and how your time at USU is preparing you for big things! I